4. Report on proceedings of the PCC printed in the Annual Review was received.

5. Report on the annual accounts.

The Treasurer said that 2015 had been a much better year after the deficit in 2014.

Voluntary income was the highest since 2010. At the end of the year, there was a small surplus in unrestricted funds and a small deficit in restricted funds. Balance sheet cash reserves remained high, but part will be used in 2016.

The 2015 fund which had funded new vestments and special events had been closed and a small surplus of £1,800 transferred to the General Fund.

There is now a Bells fund, a new restricted fund hopefully to be augmented by grant-making trusts.

The Advisory Council of the Friends' gross income was £140,000, generating a substantial surplus, allowing us to give £29,000 to charity. The Friends covered the church utility bills in addition to other maintenance and capital expenditure.

Kitson Hall income rose from £45,000 to £48,000, which with reduced expenses created a surplus of £17,800, £10,000 of which was transferred to help the General Fund. A new boiler will be installed in 2016.

Some of the Music Fund had been spent in 2015, and substantial new donations had been received in 2016.

The Youth and Children's Worker fund had sufficient funds to cover Charlie Auton's salary for the coming 2 years.

The General Fund at the year end had a small deficit of £3k. The turnaround was largely due to the very successful stewardship campaign which led to an increase of around £20,000 annually (including associated Gift Aid) in promised income and huge thanks were extended to everybody who contributed or responded to the appeal.

Responding to a question, Patrick confirmed that CAF bank is covered by the insurance scheme of the financial regulatory authorities to £75,000.

Tiziana George was thanked very much for her work as the church book-keeper. Chris Hine was also thanked for his considerable work as Gift Aid secretary; he has recently indicated a wish to step down and the search is on for a replacement Gift Aid secretary. The preferred mode of donation is by a Gift Aided Standing Order.

On a suggestion of Claire Boyling the meeting thanked the Friends, the Ball Committee, the Music Fund and the Fashion Show committee on behalf of St Mary's for all their hard work in raising valuable funds.

Patrick was thanked for his hard work to ensure that the church finances are kept in good order.

6. Appointment of an independent examiner of the accounts for 2016.
Judy Gowing proposed that Alastair Cameron be reappointed; it was seconded by Peter Boyling. He was reappointed unanimously. Thanks were extended to Alastair for his work examining the accounts for some years.
7. Report on the fabric of the church, and of the church hall. These reports, printed in the Annual Review, were received. Peter Boyling was thanked for his chairmanship of the Fabric Committee and William Heller for his chairmanship of the Kitson Hall committee. William and Cheryl Cole, the Hall Manager, were congratulated on the improved financial state of the Hall accounts.
8. Report on the Team Council, printed in the Annual report, was received. Revd Stephen Stavrou was licensed recently at Team Vicar at St Michael & All Angels.
9. Rector's report
After a short holiday, Richard had taken 2 weeks' study leave. This enabled him to undertake some intensive reading, which is difficult in the midst of busy parish life. He found this very fruitful. He also visited some parishes which are similar to St Mary's and shared problems and opportunities with their clergy. He thanked Ann Lynes and Bishop Richard who had covered for him while he was away.
He then introduced the new user friendly website which will be launched on Sunday, 1 May. A lot of work has been done by Sarah Fitzgerald working with local consultant and designer, Sarah Arthur.
Richard then thanked the clergy and readers for their support and help. He was also enjoying working with the Team clergy at St Michael's and Holy Trinity. It was very good to have Charlie Auton working with our children and young people. He had made a considerable impact already.
He added many thanks to Dan Turner for all he brings to St Mary's. Cheryl continued in her efficient and friendly way and he expressed his appreciation to her. Sally Copland retired recently as Head Sacristan and had been replaced by a team of four! Andrew Summers was particularly thanked for all the things he had done especially during the Magna Carta year. The work of the Friends was invaluable. He noted that Trisha Hawkins was one of those people who goes about her work efficiently and quietly often behind the scenes: he mentioned two recent tasks, the relaying of the path between church and Kitson Hall, and the re-ordering of the Melvill Room cupboard. Richard expressed his deep appreciation of the churchwardens who helped and supported him so much.
10. Paul Teverson on behalf of the Churchwardens offered a vote of thanks to Richard: please see text in Appendix II below.
11. Any other business - none
12. Date of next annual meeting will be announced at a later date.

The meeting closed with the Grace at 21.30pm,
Judy Gowing, PCC Secretary, 1st June 2016

Appendix I: Rector's Address

APCM April 2016

I am just recently back from a month's holiday and Study Leave. People want to know what I've been up to so I thought I would share it now.

We had a few day's holiday in Madrid for our 20th wedding anniversary. We enjoyed the art galleries and churches. I shall probably be making references to Picasso, Goya, El Greco and Hieronymus Bosch in forthcoming sermons.

We also went to Stratford and saw Don Quixote at RSC: Cervantes shares a 400th anniversary with Shakespeare. I also took the opportunity to go down to Plymouth to visit my mother and brother too.

The other bit of holiday was a three-day trip rowing down the Severn River with three friends. It was great fun, quite tiring but a great way to switch off as on the river you feel well away from stresses and concerns associated with home and work. It was very restorative.

But of course, it was also study leave and so I did do some work. I attended some lectures in London that I wouldn't have got to otherwise and I did some intensive reading which I find difficult to do in the busyness of ministry. This has given me lots of ideas and material to ponder. In ministry, there is a lot of giving out – sermons and talks don't just appear and you need your store of ideas and inspiration to be refreshed.

I also arranged some visits to parishes with some similar features to our own. I visited them on Sunday and then met with the vicar in the week following. We shared ideas and compared notes. This was fascinating and very useful as I seek to formulate some new plans for the next few years. The PCC will be reviewing our Mission Action Plan over the next few months so this will be good material for me to use.

The main thing that I want to do this evening is to show you our new Church website and talk about the new logo that we have been using for the past couple of months.

The idea for a new logo came from Sarah Chapman, a member of St Mary's for a number of years now. She is also a graphic designer. She felt it might be time for a new look. And you know me, I'm always happy to think about doing things a bit differently!

Firstly, on a technical level Sarah said that if we're going to re-design our website the roundel design that we have used for many years would not be suitable and it could do with a change to make it a bit more contemporary. So, if we were going to have a new logo, what should it be? St Mary's is lacking any obvious symbols that are suitable for a logo. But Sarah liked the idea of a window because people look through a window to see what might be going on inside and she thought (and I agreed) that we are an outward-looking church so it represents something important about our perspective. Thankfully we have some wonderful windows in St Mary's and Sarah designed a logo using a simplified version of one of the lancet windows in the Langton Chapel.

It's a simple and strong image. The logo isn't just the window, it's the name as well and together they are striking and give a good impression. The PCC discussed this at some length and made various decisions to tweak the design and we settled on what we have been using for the past few months. I hope you like it.

The website was long overdue a change and we found someone well equipped to do this for us.

It would be interesting just to know which of you regularly uses the internet?

Who has ever accessed St Mary's website? Who uses it regularly?

St Mary's website had a few drawbacks:

- It didn't work well on mobile phones and tablets
- Lots of its content was hidden away on downloadable pdfs (and therefore hard to search for on Google)
- It could only be updated by people who understood computer code
- Visually it was dark and grey and had tiny pictures
- And most importantly - partly because it was quite hard to navigate - it served more as a website for people within the church community than for the Barnes community as a whole

We needed a new website as it was becoming harder to keep the old one going and we wanted a website that would help us do the following:

- Explain our faith and our mission both to our regular churchgoers and to the community as a whole
- Invite people in to join our church community
- Provide an easy-to-search calendar of church events
- Flag up important events in the life of the church on the home page - whether that's the bike sale, the bazaar, or the Harvest Festival
- Allow us to market our revenue generating assets - The Kitson Hall, rooms in the Church & Weddings
- Be interactive - people these days expect to be able to fill in forms online and not download them and post them
- Take donations online

The new site has pretty much all the same content as the old site but is bigger, brighter and, for someone coming fresh to the site, easier to use. For those of you who are used to the old website the new site will take a bit of adjusting to, as there are things you may previously have found under one heading will have moved but hopefully after a little bit of exploration you'll see that everything you want to find is there.

A brief guided tour of the website:

- The calendar
- Easy one page reference to see what's going on in the Church on any given day but there are also sub calendars.
- The Weddings page
- Contribute page - on the top yellow bar
- Church Groups page

The site will go live on Sunday evening, May 1st.

Thanks go, as ever, to Ann, Bishop Richard, Christabel and Geoffrey. It's great to be part of a team that is so mutually supportive and which takes quality of worship so seriously. I also greatly enjoy the Team Ministry that we share in with David and Adam at Holy Trinity and the newly welcomed Stephen Stavrou at St Michael's and Judith is also a valued member of the clergy team.

It has been wonderful to welcome Charlie to St Mary's as our Youth & Children's Worker. He has made a huge impact already not only with the children and young people but with everyone in the congregation who has met him. Charlie is developing our ministry with the younger end of the church no end. We value this greatly.

Many thanks as ever to Dan as Director of Music who does an incredible job as our Director of Music. His contribution is greatly valued by so many people.

Cheryl continues in her efficient and friendly way as our administrator and Kitson Hall manager. We all want to express our appreciation to her.

We already said a big thank you to Sally Copland who stood down after many years amazing service as sacristan but thankfully she's still very much around to help out in lots of ways.

It is not possible to thank everyone but I would like to make particular mention of two people this year:

Firstly, I would like to express my gratitude to Andrew Summers who does such an amazing job as Chair of the Friends of St Mary's. Between the Ball and the Music Festival and many other events, Andrew both raises a lot of money for St Mary's and develops connections with the wider community. Andrew and I share a commitment for St Mary's to enjoy fruitful partnerships with other organisations right across Barnes and he does this very effectively.

I would also like to take note of the very significant contributions that Trisha Hawkins makes to our church life. We all know how much she does with the Bellringers to nurture their very active life. Trisha helps to enable the ringers and the church to have a very positive friendly relationship together and this is very important indeed. But she also contributes in many other ways too, often without anyone even really knowing that it was her who did it! For instance, Trisha has just completely re-organised the store cupboard off the Melvill Room. This was no small task and what she has achieved is a thing of beauty. Long may that good order continue. Trisha also was instrumental in re-developing the path between the church and Kitson Hall. It is no longer an eye-sore and is a good feature of our facilities. Many thanks to Trisha for all this and more.

I would like to give my heart-felt thanks to the churchwardens – Paul and Patty. I couldn't fulfil my role without them and I greatly value their support and help in so many ways.

And finally, a very big thank you to JulieAnn who gives me unstinting and invaluable support. She is there for the successes and the frustrations and I am eternally grateful for all that she does for me and for St Mary's.

Rev'd Richard Sewell

Appendix II:

Vote of thanks to the Rector from Paul Teverson, churchwarden.

It is sometimes helpful to identify what one is not doing, before trying to say what one is. Richard, I am not going to thank you this evening for being a star cricketer, a marathon runner or a former keeper of chickens. I am not thanking you for the fact that at Christmas 2015, 1532 people attended our services on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. My maths is not good enough to work out the percentage increase since 2011.

I am not even going to thank you (although you heartily deserve it) for being our Team Rector at a time when there was an interregnum at St Michael's; for acting as an assistant area dean when Tim Marwood was stepping down not to mention the retirement of Stephen Roberts, the very experienced Archdeacon of Wandsworth; all of that in a year when this church was celebrating, either its 800th anniversary or its 834th anniversary depending on who is counting. Because that would be to miss the point.

My vote of thanks on behalf of the congregation of St Mary's and on behalf of the very many others who have attended services here in this last year is to thank you for your dedicated and devoted Ministry, for the freshness and energy of your Ministry, for its variety and for its vitality and sometimes, yes, for its bite. That, Richard, on behalf of everyone here and who comes to worship or watch in this church is what Patty and I want to thank you for this evening.

HONORARY TREASURER'S REPORT

I am happy to say that the overall outturn for 2016 was not unsatisfactory. Since 2014, and our efforts to reverse the decline in overall voluntary giving to the church in 2015, we have seen our General Fund income (loose plate, standing orders, envelopes and once-only donations) rise modestly as follows:

2014	£125,090
2015	136,777
2016	137,525

This does at least reverse the previous downward trend. Although giving in 2016 did not rise by as much as we had hoped, expenses were well controlled, and thanks to an outstanding performance by those handling the affairs of Kitson Hall, we were able to come close to break-even with a contribution to the General fund of £12,634 from the profit on Hall lettings. In 2018 we shall need part at least of the reserves held in the General Fund to cover the cost of our youth and children's worker, Charlie Auton, as the fund created for this purpose will be exhausted.

The PCC decided in November 2016 to make a modest move towards the diversification of its reserves, given the abysmal rates of interest now available on deposit accounts, and invested £50,000 in the CCLA COIF Investment Fund. While this is subject to the normal fluctuations of any market investment, it has an excellent long-term track record, is managed by a very respectable institution and gives an annual yield of 3.8%.

The Friends' fund now supports all capital projects in the church, as well as much of the routine maintenance. During 2016 the fund diminished by nearly £20,000 as it paid for part of the new lighting scheme as well as a variety of smaller projects such as CCTV and refurbishment of the vestry. The Music fund has been much enhanced by some successful fundraising, and will be covering some larger scholarship awards as well as external singers.

During 2017 we will need to look for new and enhanced levels of giving. Despite the generous response to the appeal in 2015, there is an inevitable attrition of our income as a result of deaths in the congregation and regular givers moving out of Barnes.

I must of course thank very warmly those who help to keep the St. Mary's accounting function turning over smoothly. After seven very successful years as Gift Aid Secretary, Chris Hine stepped down in early 2016, and John Harries has very kindly taken on this important role. Tiziana George continues looking after the bookkeeping with effortless precision, and Richard du Parcq is meticulous in ensuring that our cash is banked in the right place. None of these roles is as simple as it sounds, and I am very grateful to all who discharge them.
